Ratings This game has a PEGI 7 rating. PEGI state that the game contains non realistic looking violence towards fantasy characters. The violence is set in a cartoon, slapstick or childlike setting, but could be upsetting to very young children. There are also pictures or sounds that are likely to be scary to young children. The Everyone 10+ rating from the ESRB goes into more detail, stating that players use punches, kicks, and assorted weapons (e.g., firearms, batarangs) to defeat enemy henchmen and boss characters. Players' special abilities (e.g., heat vision, super strength, blasts of energy) also cause damage in battle; combat is highlighted by impact sounds and cries of pain. Enemies burst into Lego pieces when defeated. Overview Lego Batman 3 draws in all generations of the DC comics character including classic 60's Batman, this along with the other rare DC characters offer a trip down memory lane to revisit childhood comic themes for parents. Heroes and civilians in peril persist as the driver for players to solve problems in the game. Although these are cartoon in nature, there is still a high impact feel to proceedings. Fighting and shooting is exuberant and may lead to youngsters following suit once they have finished playing. Seeing real Lego kits appear in the game will spark players to revisit these toys and possible recreate in game characters and locations from their own bedroom brick collection. Apart from their cross-generational appeal, the Lego games are well known for solid game-play and tongue in cheek humour. The difficulty level of the game is set to appeal to all ages, with co-op play built into the main adventure allowing children and families to play together in a world that offers a large number of playable characters and varied gameplay. How to play online co op in any Lego game By wizard master 笨笨子 Sorry for bad english haveing online co op in a lego game said to be but a dream i'm hear to help ya learn hwo to do it not just with lego batman 3 but any lego game and any local co op game the first step is downloading what parsec is its atoll that turns any local co op game in to online multiplayer some games will require p2 to have a controller like cuphead but for lego games it doesnt matter if p2 has keyboard or controller install it when it asks you u want controller support u click yes u want that then u gonna get another pop up asking u to install something else u wanna install this to so it works right after u done installing make your account. so now that ur all set up have the friend u want to play with do the same make there account and install it now add your laptop or desktop or what ever your pc name is to the list be sure to enable hosting tell ya friend to do so althothen create a party set up the party be sure to have said game running in back round when you start making the party set every thing up then add the game to the approved apps list then create party then ur party should be on the left side then you should see a button that says copy or invite copy the link send it to ya friend and wait for him to join the party then tell ya friend to click play then u go back in to your game make sure your friend doesnt touch nothign till ur in game level and rdy for him to press F2 or start on said controller or keyboard after he does that boom you are now playing online with ya best friend, playing with random ppl u gotta be careful not to add anything other then the game to the list as they can see what you see they can see your steam overlay and type on ya frinds message box and click like its theres best to stick with ya best friend also both players dont need to have the game only 1 person needs to have the game for to play together so have fun i hope this helps Note: This is ONLY to be used to report spam, advertising, and problematic (harassment, fighting, or rude) posts. You can choose between two different split screen modes: Dynamic: In "dynamic" mode, the screen will split when the characters are far apart from each other so that each one is displayed in a separate half of the screen. When the characters are close together, the split-screen will disappear. Fixed Vertical: In "fixed vertical" mode, the screen will always be split so that each character is displayed in a separate half of the screen. To change the split screen mode, follow these instructions: Pause the game during play and select Options. Highlight the Split Screen Mode option and press the Return (↵) key to switch the mode. Highlight Accept and press the Return (↵) key. NOTE: In some levels, you will not be able to change the split screen mode.
